SPECIAL TOWN MEETING. Settles Question of Purchasing High School Site-Original Resolution

The special town meeting held in town hall Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock brought out upwards of one hundred voters. Town Clerk Fenton valled the meeting to order. Mayor Daniel P. Dunn was chosen moderator. The clerk read the warning. Then W. B. Knight took the floor. He said it was time for the men of Windham to act as men and not as boys, for practically everything so far done to further the interests of a new high school had been mere boys play. Some five months time had been consumed without anything tangible resulting. The committee did not select the plans of the architect who submitted the best plans for the least money but had given the job to one who was a slick walker and one whose plan showed up nicely in colors with heautiful tree. The special town meeting held in what kind of a house the accused kept. Had seen two men go into the house micely in colors, with beautiful trees, automobiles anad stylishly gowned people promenading before the approaches to the imposing structure and had so delayed the important matter of building that materials had advanced ten per cent. In cost.

White the price for the O'Loughlin site might seem a little high to some, he himself was of the opinion that Mr. O'Loughlin was entitled to a little for the cussing he is bound to get, and he favored giving if to blin (the extra sum) although it to blin (the extra sum) although the should be a slice within two weeks and that one carried beer. Sunday he saw Raimey, who was in court Monday morning go into the house.

Pete Kelley testified that he was drunk Saturday night and that two other fellows took him to the home of the accused. He claimed that he did not know much about being there as he fell asleep. He admitted that he had been there on one previous occasion and that he drunk beer there.

Capt. Richmond testified that he had the cussing he is bound to get, and he favored giving if to him (the extra sum) although he did not personally know the semithow the gentleman. He introduced a resolution authoring and commanding the board of electmen to go ahead and purchase ie O'Loughlin site at a sum not to coed $10,000, in according with the action of a previous meeting in appropriating such a sum for the purpose.

William Vanderman said that while he previously objected to the purchase of the O'Loughim site, he now believed that it was for the best interests of the town and seconded the resolution.

Corporation Counsel George W. Maioney favored the measure and called attention to the aesthetic advantages to accrue to the high school site by the purchase of the O'Loughlin site. W. C. Norris endeavored to amend the resolution, believing that the entire proceedings was woefully ambiguous, but his amendment was not seconded. Attorney Thomas J. Kelley stated for the benefit of those present that the committee had instructed its chairman to purchase. Personally aside from being on the committee he believed that it was absolutely necessary if for no other reason than that the attendance of pupils is bound to be much larger than ever. He suggested that the town school committee could gilize the houses on the O'Loughlin site for temporary high school purposes until such time as the building committee would have the new addition ready, which was hoped would be by the opening of the fall term in 1910. He also suggested that the resolution for a strend and strend and such time as the building committee would have the new addition ready, which was hoped would be by the opening of the fall term in 1910.
